LONDON, Sep 05, 2006 (BUSINESS WIRE) -- NCR Corporation (NYSE:NCR) announced today that Nationwide Building Society is installing the next generation of NCR's automated teller machines (ATMs) with Intelligent Deposit - the Personas M Series 76 - in its branches, making this the first deployment of the Personas 76 in the United Kingdom. The roll-out of 170 of these new units is currently underway. NCR's newest Intelligent Deposit technology has been piloted in 10 Nationwide branches over the last three months.

Kevin Scott-Evans, head of ATM Services at Nationwide, said, "'Self-Serve' is our brand to promote the latest multitransaction ATMs to our members. We were the first financial institution in the United Kingdom to launch intelligent deposit at the ATM with NCR. We are investing GBP 300 million in improving access to our services for members. 'Self-Serve' forms part of this investment."

Rachel Nash, vice president of NCR's Financial Solutions Division for the UK and Ireland, commented, "NCR has taken a new approach to the design of its Personas M Series 76 ATM. NCR has created a user-centric ATM with an improved look and feel. The feedback so far has been overwhelmingly positive from Nationwide's members and financial institutions globally that have also deployed the solution."

Nationwide's newly-branded 'Self-Serve' solution can be card- or passbook-activated and provides an extensive range of transactions in addition to traditional cash withdrawal and account transactions. This includes automated cash or check deposit, with an image of the check or breakdown of the cash denominations printed on the customer's receipt.

"NCR has supported the delivery of this project within an aggressive timescale, providing excellent project management and training for our branch and help desk staff in addition to the hardware," said Scott-Evans.
