February 2, 2009 at 8:02 AM EST

DAYTON, Ohio--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Today the board of directors of NCR Corporation (NYSE: NCR) announced it has appointed Quincy L. Allen to the company's board of directors.

"As NCR enhances its core businesses and taps promising new industry segments and geographies, it will be vital to have the experience and input of individuals like Quincy Allen. His technical, operational and marketing expertise will be an asset for this company and its shareholders," said Bill Nuti, NCR chairman and chief executive officer.

Allen is the president of Xerox Corporation's Global Business and Strategic Marketing Group. He is also a vice president of the corporation.

Allen is responsible for the worldwide management of Xerox's $5 billion production and $8 billion office businesses, including P&L, product marketing and launch and strategic planning. The production business offers high end systems, software and services for the graphic communication industry, including production publishing, transaction printing and enterprise-wide printing. He oversees marketing of Xerox technology, software and services for offices small to large. Since joining Xerox as an electrical engineer in 1982, Allen has held senior technical and management positions in areas such as supply chain, sales and marketing, and product development.

Allen earned a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from Northeastern University and a master's degree in business administration from the University of Rochester. He is a board member of the National Action Council for Minorities in Engineering, Inc. and the Electronic Document Systems Foundation.
