New NCR Customer Will Replace Existing ATMs

DULUTH, Ga., Jun 13, 2011 (BUSINESS WIRE) --

NCR Corporation (NYSE: NCR) today announced that Broadway Bank, a $2.3 billion financial institution covering south central Texas, will deploy NCR SelfServ ATMs as replacements to 27 currently installed machines. NCR also will provide Broadway Bank with Solidcore for APTRA, its ATM security software, and provide 2nd line hardware and software maintenance.

Solidcore for APTRA is a multivendor ATM software security solution with real-time centralized management that proactively allows only authorized code to run, rather than reacting to known attacks as they arise. Specifically, Solidcore for APTRA automatically creates and updates the inventory of good code, while protecting the system's memory so that authorized code cannot be modified, deleted or hijacked - the process by which malicious code replaces authorized code with itself.

"We were very impressed with the availability, security and design of NCR SelfServ ATMs," said Mike Meyer, vice president and Deposit Operations manager, Broadway Bank. "ATMs are an important channel for Broadway Bank to deliver first-class service to our customers. Because of NCR's solid reputation in the financial industry, and their proven line of products and services, we felt confident they could provide the solutions that will fit our needs."

NCR SelfServ ATMs have been designed to deliver the highest levels of availability, which is critical to customer satisfaction. Unique features, such as self-healing technology that allows the ATM to recover automatically without the need for human intervention, dual-roll receipt printers that ensure the ATM need never run out of paper and graphical operator panels that allow the bank employees to quickly and effectively perform routine maintenance tasks, all ensure NCR SelfServ ATMs are "in service" when consumers need them.

NCR SelfServ ATMs have been purchased by more than 680 financial institutions in more than 110 countries around the world. NCR has been the global market share leader in ATMs since 1986 - 24 consecutive years.¹
