3.10 Upgrade Includes Components to Help Decrease Internal Losses

DULUTH, Ga.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Feb. 23, 2016-- NCR Small Business today announced an upgrade for NCR Silver Pro Restaurant Edition, its advanced tablet point-of-sale (POS) system for restaurants.

The latest upgrade allows small business and franchise owners to help reduce the likelihood of internal fraud and theft by limiting cash drawer access to employees as necessary. Management can use this feature to help identify individual employees that have cash shortages.

Further, NCR Small Business has added a blind count component so an employee can declare the amount of cash they count without the ability to compare it to the cash total expected by the POS system based on the transaction initiated by the employee.

"Unfortunately, many small businesses regularly suffer from theft and fraud, and they may never know it," said Chris Poelma, president and general manager of NCR Small Business. "This software upgrade aims to hold employees accountable and, therefore, cut down on the internal losses experienced by entrepreneurs and franchisees."

In addition to the cash-related components of the upgrade, NCR Silver and NCR Silver Pro Restaurant Edition offer back office alerts for unusually large or frequent discounts applied by employees.

"As a former IT consultant, I'm impressed by the advanced functionality and security NCR Silver Pro provides," said Anand Subramanian, owner of Bliss Bar and Lounge in Suwanee, Ga. "As a small business owner, I value the system's ease of use and intuitive nature. When choosing a POS system, I researched over 20 options, and NCR Silver Pro was an obvious choice."
