NCR shares 'Best Smart Branch Project' award with Nedbank and Bytes Managed Solutions

JOHANNESBURG--(BUSINESS WIRE)--May 8, 2017-- NCR Corporation (NYSE: NCR), a global leader in omni-channel solutions, today announced it has been awarded the 'Best Smart Branch Project' in Africa at The Asian Banker Technology Innovation Awards ceremony. NCR shares the honor with Nedbank (JSE: NBKP), one of the largest banks in South Africa, and Bytes Managed Solutions, a leading technology company in Africa and an NCR partner.

The awards program is managed by a team of research analysts from Asian Banker Research with expertise in the banking industry in Asia, Middle East and Africa. The evaluation criteria are set out and form part of a rigorous and transparent process vetted by leading practitioners, independent advisors and an international panel of industry experts.

"NCR is honored to receive this recognition together with Nedbank and Bytes Managed Solutions as it validates our solutions that help banks transform and optimize their customers' branch visit experience," said Dimitri Kanellopoulos, Country Manager, NCR South Africa. "We will continue to innovate and deliver next-generation omni-channel technologies to transform the way consumers connect, interact and transact with businesses."

The award-winning NCR technologies include NCR Interactive Teller, that allows a live teller to take remote control of an ATM to assist customers with up to 90 percent of transactions typically completed by tellers inside a branch. NCR was also recognized for NCR Interactive Banker, a technology that allows banks to leverage intuitive tablet enterprise technology to turn smart data into exceptional customer service.

"The move to NCR's innovative Branch Transformation solutions has enabled us to deliver exceptional banking experiences, and encourages us further to introduce other innovations that optimize banking for our customers," said Preni Naidoo, Executive, Self Service Banking at Nedbank.

The awards were presented in conjunction with the 'Future of Finance Middle East and Africa Convention' in Dubai, UAE on April 20, 2017. The ceremony featured elite bankers and fintech companies from across the region.

"The Asian Banker Technology Innovation Award recipients represent technology innovators in an increasingly competitive marketplace, and we are pleased to be recognised and rewarded for our solution," said José Simoes, Senior Manager (Financial) at Bytes Managed Solutions.
