

NCR Awarded $2.1 Million Point of Sale Contract

August 22, 2000 at 10:39 AM EDT

ATLANTA, Aug. 22 /PRNewswire/ -- NCR Corporation (NYSE: NCR), the leader in Relationship Technology(TM) solutions, won a contract estimated at $2.1 million to provide point-of-sale (POS) solutions for Pittsburgh-based Eat'n Park restaurants. Installation is scheduled to begin in August of 2000.

The deal calls for NCR 7454 POS terminals, NCR's Web-enabled, multi-media workstations, which offer functionality far beyond the traditional touchscreen ordering system. The contract also includes thermal printers, receipt printers and PC workstations, all of which were piloted in two of Eat'n Park stores prior to selection. NCR will also provide project management and implementation services.

"Users and management saw NCR's product as superior," said Eat'n Park Vice President of Information Services Jim Welsh. "We've worked with NCR for nearly 10 years and it's clear that superior service, support and hardware reliability are as much a priority now as ever."

About Eat'n Park

Founded in 1949 as Pittsburgh's first drive-in, car-hop restaurant, Eat'n Park has grown to be the region's leading full-service family dining company, with more than 75 restaurants employing 7,500 people throughout Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. Most Eat'n Park locations are open 24 hours a day, seven days a week.
