June 19, 2001 at 9:33 AM EDT

LONDON, June 19 /PRNewswire/ -- Nationwide, the world's largest building society, will be the first UK financial services provider to install NCR Corporation's (NYSE: NCR) advanced cash and check deposit technology using NCR's Personas 70 automated teller machine (ATM) coupled with a Personas 72 Sidecar.

Under a multi-million pound agreement, the machines will be rolled out across 80 Nationwide branches and branded as Nationwide Fast Cash & Cheque. The agreement also covers professional services, software development, project management and ongoing maintenance from NCR.

Fast Cash & Cheque performs all the usual ATM functions, such as dispensing cash and balance information, via a touch-operated color screen. In addition, Nationwide's members can:

- Deposit up to 30 banknotes, which are immediately credited to the account and available for withdrawal;
- Deposit checks, for which a receipt incorporating a scanned image of the check is provided;
- Obtain a building society check.

Eighty percent of those visiting a bank or building society branch do so to carry out one or more of the above transactions. Unusually, holders of passbook accounts*, as well card-based ones, can use Fast Cash & Cheque.

Robin Bailey, Nationwide's branch network director, said, "Adding self- service options such as Fast Cash & Cheque gives our members greater choice in the way they carry out everyday transactions with us. It also means our employees have more time to give the friendly help and advice that our members expect from Nationwide. Many of the large banks are closing branches. Our strategy is different. Self-service devices such as Fast Cash & Cheque help ensure our branches remain economically viable by driving higher volumes of business through them."

Andy Morss, NCR's Financial Solutions Division vice president for Northern Europe, said, "NCR's ground-breaking technology is like a branch in the box. It is easy to use and frees branch staff to deal with customers' more complex needs. We worked closely with Nationwide to meet the specifications designed for their members. Nationwide has once again shown it is a world leader in adopting technology that improves customer service."

- Passbook holders need to register their account first and obtain a PIN number. Card-based accounts can use it immediately.
