

NCR and Fiserv Expand Partnership to Include Information Technology, Inc.; Fiserv Subsidiary Will Integrate NCR's Imaging Transports With Its Software Solutions

May 20, 2002 at 10:03 AM EDT

DAYTON, Ohio, May 20, 2002 (BUSINESS WIRE) -- NCR Corporation (NYSE:NCR), today announced Information Technology, Inc. (ITI) of Lincoln, Neb., a wholly owned subsidiary of Fiserv Inc. (Nasdaq:FISV), as the newest value added reseller for NCR's payment solutions and check imaging business.

ITI will certify and integrate NCR's full suite of image-based item-processing transports with its own imaging software. In November 2001, NCR sold its core account and item-processing outsourcing operations to Fiserv. As a result, both companies can creatively partner to provide advanced imaging solutions to their large customer bases.

Joe Kniceley, vice president of NCR Payment Solutions for the Americas region, said, "NCR is excited to partner with a top provider of integrated software and services solutions for the nation's financial industry. Used in conjunction with NCR's family of transports, ITI solutions will provide outstanding value to our mutual customers."

"ITI is certifying and will make available our popular Document Processing System and Check Image System on the entire range of NCR image transports, including the flagship 7780 and the new, state-of-the-art ITRAN 8000," according to Michael Young, president, Information Technology, Inc.
