Leading Midwest restaurant brand to deploy NCR Voyix platform, including Aloha Next, Voyix Pay and services, to support faster innovation, stronger operational consistency and long-term growth

ATLANTA--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jul. 7, 2026-- NCR Voyix (NYSE: VYX), a platform-powered leader in unified commerce for shopping and dining, today announced an exclusive platform agreement with Pizza Ranch Inc., a leading restaurant chain known for its family-friendly dining experience and franchise network across the United States. Under the agreement, NCR Voyix will serve as Pizza Ranch's exclusive point-of-sale technology partner across corporate-owned restaurants and franchisee locations.

Pizza Ranch will deploy Aloha Next, NCR Voyix's next-generation restaurant platform built on a microservices architecture, creating a unified foundation for point of sale, payments and in-store capabilities. The platform simplifies execution, supports enterprise scalability and enables Pizza Ranch to accelerate innovation around the priorities that matter most to its operators, franchisees and customers.

"We look forward to rolling out NCR Voyix's Aloha Next POS across Pizza Ranch starting in 2027. After seeing Aloha Next's capabilities firsthand, we're confident it will streamline operations for our franchisees and our Franchisee Support Center team alike. The platform gives us the speed to innovate faster, reduce friction across the guest and back-of-house experience, and stay focused on delivering the legendary hospitality Pizza Ranch is known for," said Jon Moss, Senior Vice President and Chief Brand Officer at Pizza Ranch.

"With Aloha Next, we've brought decades of proven restaurant technology to a modern, microservices architecture powered by AI," said Benny Tadele, Executive Vice President and President of Restaurants at NCR Voyix. "We're proud to partner with Pizza Ranch as they modernize their technology and accelerate new possibilities for their teams and their guests."
