NCR Hosts Second Annual ATM Network Summit

August 18, 2000 at 11:05 AM EDT

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 18 /PRNewswire/ -- NCR Corporation, the world leader in banking self-service solutions for the 13th consecutive year, hosted its second annual network summit on August 10-11, focusing on customer relationships and ATMs.

The summit, held at NCR's headquarters in Dayton, Ohio, included major ATM processors and software vendors, and attendees learned how they can attract new customers by offering Web-based services and targeted marketing.

Companies providing ATM processing to over 125,000 ATMs were represented in addition to leading software partners. Among the attendees were executives from Concord EFS, Core Data Resources, Computer Services Inc., NYCE, e-Funds, ACI Worldwide, ITS-Shazam, IFS, M&I Data Services, Midwest Payment Systems, Lexcel Solutions, Lynk Systems, NetWorks, US Bank, Tyme, Euronet Services, Mosaic, Paragon, S2 Systems, Satmark Media Group, US Bank Processing and Future Soft.

Summit roundtable topics included convenience banking and deposit automation, new retail ATM solutions and software, implementation of Web ATMs and best-in-class ATM management tools.

"NCR values the relationships we have with the network processors and software partners," said Andy Orent, vice president of NCR's Financial Solutions Division. "Together, we must continue to provide significant value to our joint customers. The partners were particularly excited about NCR's concepts around partner support, Targeted Advertising and the move to Web-based software."
