NCR Announces Agreement with Tricon Global Restaurants, Inc. for Point of Sale Worldwide

February 16, 2001 at 10:32 AM EST

ATLANTA, Feb. 16 /PRNewswire/ -- Compris Technologies, a wholly-owned subsidiary of NCR Corporation (NYSE: NCR), today announced it will become Tricon Global Restaurants, Inc.'s (NYSE: YUM) preferred global provider of point of sale, menu management, and home delivery software for corporate and franchise locations.

The initial order for 2,300 corporate-owned locations marks the beginning of a multi-year relationship. With the prospect of adding Tricon's vast franchise network, the potential scope of work currently includes over 29,000 locations worldwide.

"We are standardizing best operating practices around the globe to take advantage of Tricon's enormous scale," said Tricon Chief Operating Officer Aylwin Lewis. "We have selected a partner with the experience and worldwide presence to help us achieve this goal," added Lewis.

Tricon cited global capabilities, multiple hardware platforms support and software flexibility as the ultimate selection factors. The agreement includes Tricon's participation in Compris' Users Group.

"This type of large-scale, global deployment speaks to all of Compris' strengths," said Compris President and CEO Martin Bradley. "We are very excited to have Tricon Global Restaurants join our prestigious customer base, which includes the top QSR's around the world."
